Virtual vs Live Events

- What is the big difference you see between city events and events put on by your clients?
- What type of virtual events can you execute without event/program coordinators and participants leaving their home/property?*
- What is the recommended length of a virtual video for tips & hints of a subject/topic?
- We have a large physical event and a big part of it is the end celebration - dinner, music, beer, sponsor booths. How do we do something to celebrate - virtually - with our participants?
- What could cities do to upgrade their events?
- What type of virtual events get your clients the most bang for their bucks?
- What is the best way to go about getting management approval of virtual events, as they often look so different than traditional events?
- National Kids to Parks Day is coming up; what type of virtual events can you do without anyone setting foot in a park?
- What are good engagement strategies for virtual rec (live, scheduled programs)?
- What costs associated with virtual activities are suggested for people who register?*

Virtual Vendors & Sponsors

- Without direct contact at booths during the event, how do our sponsors engage participants in a virtual, yet meaningful, way?

Best way to put on an engaging virtual run to replace a race, that is actually engaging and fun.

Post COVID-19 Events

- Post Covid-19 what do you think the role of virtual events will be once we are able to have in person events?* :)
- Is there a space for hybrid events? Do you have examples?
- We would like multiple staff to be able to do Facebook live videos. However, they are not page managers and we do not give them access. What is the best way or platform to do this?
- Seeing as safety is our #1 goal, there is more concern of terrorism striking an event than sickness. Now as people walk around with masks and gloves on, it seems like security issues, checks and enforcement is going to suffer? (emailed to see if she had a question better suited to virtual platform)
